Note Photoshop is a versatile image editor, but it has a large learning curve. You will need to learn to use the key tools and shortcuts. Once you do, you'll be able to transform photos with ease. You use the many tools that Photoshop comes with to edit your image. Before we get into the individual tools, let's talk a bit more about layers in Photoshop. Let's say you have a picture of your pet dog and want to remove her ears. In most cases, you'd need to select the `Ears` layer, and then use the Edit ► Cut command to remove her ears. This command only works with layers. To make a layer edit, you need to either create a new layer (see Chapter 6) or activate an existing one. The new layer is usually called `Layer _n_`, where `n` is the number of the layer, in most cases starting at 1. To use the Edit ► Cut command, you need to have the `Ears` layer selected and active. Then you press Ctrl+E to open the Editor tool (see Figure 5.3) to select the part you want to cut out. You can also type the word or number of the layer that you want to cut to just navigate to that layer. (The layer selection tool is discussed in Chapter 6.) You can also use the Cut tool (see Figure 5.4) to perform similar tasks. This tool works

Standard size of fresh frozen plasma and red blood cell unit as a predictor of total blood volume in trauma patients with massive transfusion. Total blood volume (TBV) is an important determinant of coagulopathy in trauma. Limited data are available about the predictive value of standard size of fresh frozen plasma (FFP) and red blood cell (RBC) unit for total blood volume in trauma patients undergoing massive transfusion (MT). We assessed the effect of the standard-size of FFP and RBC on TBV during MT in trauma patients. The population of this retrospective, single-center study consisted of trauma patients between August 2009 and January 2012, receiving MT due to irreversible coagulopathy. The volume of plasma, RBC and platelets collected was used to calculate TBV. The patients were divided into three groups according to the collected standard size of FFP and RBC: Group 1 (\leq standard units), Group 2 (standard units > standard units) and Group 3 (protocol standard units). The TBV and RBC requirements were estimated. During the study period, the largest trauma patient undergoing MT was a 33-year-old man. The collected standard-size FFP and RBC were Group 1 (400 mL), Group 2 (1000 mL) and Group 3 (1500 mL). The TBV requirements for Group 1, Group 2 and Group 3 were 1.22, 1.39 and 1.62 mL/kg, respectively ($P = 0.018$). The RBC requirements for Group 1, Group 2 and Group 3 were 2.35, 3.89 and 6.30×10^9 , respectively (P Pages Wednesday, February 27, 2012 Free WordPress Themes - 5th Place & Finalists It's the end of the first quarter and, as usual, I thought about it all the way through (although it's only 1 p.m. now and my brain is still suffering a bit from the after-effects). 1. Systemic release of monocyte-derived chemokines by LPS-stimulated autologous granulocytes--suppression by IL-10. Granulocytes in vivo are known to be capable of releasing monocyte-derived chemokines, which modulate the function of monocytes. In this study we show that LPS-activated granulocytes (G-LPS) express MIP-1alpha and MIP-1beta and that the release of these chemokines is IL-10-dependent. G-LPS and IL-10 failed to induce any proinflammatory chemokine release from monocytes, indicating that either a G-LPS-induced monocytic response is distinct, or that IL-10 down-regulates non-G-LPS-induced monocytic chemokine release. Palm Beach County Commission President Micky Arison is urging the Palm Beach County Commission to craft a condo re-development ordinance that's much more generous to buyers than current regulations. The current code requires buyers to either buy their own lot or to be satisfied with the developer's lot, but Arison said the county needs a new ordinance that goes a step further. "I think it would be a good step forward to provide additional incentives for those who live in the county," Arison said. "If the condo project is going to be in the county, it needs to be more of a great project." Arison proposed an ordinance to the commission that would allow developers to build condo projects on up to five parcels that would cost buyers as little as $250,000. Developers have long complained about the current regulations, which provide for the individual homeowners to receive 80 percent of the lot as long as they spend a minimum of $100,000 on improvements. "In Palm Beach County we have had a half-million dollar minimum lot requirement, which is very prohibitive," Arison said. "There are many cities across the country that are small communities with not much of a market. It's hard to build on a $30,000-to-$40,000 lot." The commission may consider Arison's ordinance during a special meeting next month. While developers have already been given a relief from the current regulations, Arison said he believes the commission should go further. Soybean is one of the world's
