It seems that under iOS 10 Apple removed a link between the WatchKit and iPhone app (where the app can be downloaded and installed to the watch and updated). It looks like the best way to update the app for both iPhone and the Apple Watch is to simply create a new WatchKit app (xcode or Xcode 6) to replace the one that was already built. I can install the new binary to the watch app folder at any time! [applicationContext downloadAppBinary:@"App Name - Watch App" fromRemoteServerWithLocalPath:@"RemoteServer Path"]; I originally found this tip here for push notifications: “COURDALGET CURRENT URL” & “COURDALDAMAGE” A: Yes, it was removed.
