A: `import os import subprocess subprocess.call(["usr/bin/file", "-i", "../file.txt"])` Note the -i, it specifies the input file, without that the information is not available. You can also use `os.path.splitext()` to get it in one line: `import os import subprocess os.path.splitext(subprocess.call(["usr/bin/file", "-i", "../file.txt"])[0])` You may also be interested in `fileutil.get_extension()` Q: CORS related question I'm fairly new to CORS and setting up a web service on the express.js framework. From an endpoint, I'm expecting the following response from the following client `Access-Control-Allow-Origin: * Content-Type: application/json {"id": "12345"}` However, when using `fetch` in react, I'm getting the following `Access-Control-Allow-Origin: * Content-Type: text/html {"id": "12345"}` What am I doing wrong? Server code is: `app.use(function(req, res, next) { res.header('Access-Control-Allow-Origin', '*'); res.header('Access-Control-Allow-Headers', 'Origin, X-Requested-With, Content-Type, Accept'); res.header('Access-Control-Allow-Methods', 'GET, POST, OPTIONS'); next(); });` A: You need to enable CORS on your web server.
