The Denver Broncos have always been known as good holders of the football, leading the NFL in takeaways last year. That comes with the potential downside of giving up the occasional large chunk of yardage. Defensive end Von Miller knows that better than most, and he had a nice reminder for all those expecting the Broncos to at least attempt to contain Philadelphia quarterback Carson Wentz in Monday night's pre-season game at Sports Authority Field. One of the stars of the team's defense, Miller posted a picture of his body with the quarterback on the Denver Eagles Football game poster. The caption read: "I love my boy @Wentz27. He pretty much runs this stadium." Miller can't resist poking fun at the Eagles' name, with the caption on the picture simply reading: "If you don't have soul you shouldn't be playing football." The real fun came in the replies though. One user wrote: "@vikingsllc FFS!!!! That has to be one of the stupidest jokes ever! Don't u know that he eats freenor freenor (sic)?" Q: Сохранение файла в красный цвет в классе "FileDialog" По умолчанию в Windows формально открываемые формы под "File" принято подсвечивать красным, не знаю почему и сейчас пробовал сделать так: `if (FileDialog1.ShowDialog() == DialogResult.`
