Students who have been required to withdraw from the Faculty of Environmental and Urban Change or from another Faculty at York or elsewhere receive will a debarment warning upon returning or continuing their studies in the Faculty of Environmental and Urban Change. Students on a debarment warning must achieve a cumulative grade point average of at least 4.00 (C) within the next 24 credits taken or earn a sessional grade point average of at least 5.00 (C+) in the session in which the 24th credit is completed and in each subsequent session until their cumulative average reaches 4.00 (C), and must then maintain this average. Students who do not fulfill these conditions will be debarred from the University. Students whose cumulative grade point average falls below 3.00 (D+) at any time while on a debarment warning will be debarred. The Honours Program in Human Rights offers students a stimulating, interdisciplinary and rigorous program of specialized study leading to the Honours degree in Human Rights. Students enter the program after having completed the required Ontario College of Teachers' Program 18 credits, taken the course work for the Honours degree, and completed a summer internship with a local social or human service agency or a local human rights organization. The theoretical and practical knowledge acquired through the program is enhanced by the experience of internships. The honours program has several unique strengths including a collaboration with the Ontario Human Rights Commission (OHRC) to develop the program, the use of field research on child and youth human rights issues in Canada by scholars in the program, and the linkages and relationships with other social sciences and humanities programs.

The School of Sport and Exercise Sciences at York College provides post-graduate level education and training for all aspects of sport and exercise sciences. Our programmes are highly individualized and allow trainees to select their specializations within our broad range of disciplines as well as the broad range of sports and exercise sciences. Sports Medicine is currently one of the largest and fastest growing areas of expertise within the College. The Specialization in Sports Medicine has been one of the College's most popular post-graduate programmes. The University has established regulations, procedures and deadlines through its legislative bodies to which students must adhere. Students are expected to monitor their progress in courses, taking into account their personal and academic circumstances, and to make the necessary adjustments to their workload to meet the requirements and deadlines. The University recognizes, however, that specific circumstances may justify waiving the regulations/requirements/deadlines on an individual basis. Request for a waiver of a regulation/requirement/deadline are initiated by an academic petition. The Department of Languages, Literatures and Linguistics offers one of the widest selections of languages of any Canadian university: American Sign Language, Arabic, Chinese (Mandarin), German, Greek (both Classical and Modern), Hebrew, Hindi-Urdu, Jamaican Creole, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Latin, Persian, Portuguese, Russian, Spanish, Swahili and Yiddish. The ESL section fosters the developing abilities of domestic and international students to use English for academic purposes, allowing them to engage more fully in their programs. The study of foreign languages and literatures makes communication possible among people of different linguistic and cultural backgrounds and fosters intercultural understanding. This enables our students to engage the global community thoughtfully and creatively. 5ec8ef588b
