What's it all about? It's a new phenomenon on this planet, that happened to us humans. These are modern-day marriages that often ended in divorce, that had been blessed by a clergyman in the traditional, god-given way. This results in true love, a marriage in which both partners found the time and the patience to become that which they were meant to be all along. Life partners, soul mates, true love! TRULY LOVE your partner, for the rest of their life, and die together! * Couple's, ahem, Contract: 1) Acknowledge the fact that you are likely to die, and should be ready to die together. 2) You should want to spend your last moments together. 3) You should want to be together forever. 4) You should feel that the relationship you have with this person is so strong that it will not end when one of you dies. 5) After a lifetime together, this person will become the partner you are most attached to in your life. 6) Your relationship should have deepened with your spouse/partner over the years. 7) You should never make a commitment to a person who dies, for a moment you do not want to leave them in that situation. 8) This person should never want to be with anyone else. 9) The person you are waiting for is of the same gender. 10) This person should have a lot of money. 11) This person should have a lot of love to give. * What's it all about? Screenshot: StayOnline! StayOnline! StayOnline! StayOnline! StayOnline! StayOnline! (0.2 MB) StayOnline! is a free, open-source software utility for Windows that helps you keep your web-connection and your system-tray up-to-date, and alerts you before your ISP disconnects you. StayOnline! is an elegant, small utility and it is designed to be fully-configurable and has many advanced functions. StayOnline! has two main features: The first one is the "Alerting" feature. StayOnline! runs quietly in your system tray and lets you know, via its integrated "StayOnline!" Control Panel, about various types of ISP (Internet Service Provider) Time/Idle/Disconnect Warnings. The second feature is the "Automatic" ISP (Internet Service Provider) Time/Idle/Disconnect Warning Detection (Process). StayOnline! handles the "wget" utility, which is very common when downloading/installing files, and often used in many other applications. StayOnline! is not a download manager, but does the job with great accuracy. This tool is a great addition to the software's autoupdater and speed up, and there is no need to add any unwanted software for this, this will work in any program, so stay online and keep your connection! As well as the software can work perfectly, it is totally free (gratis) for all the users, no "pro-version", no "upgrade", just pure, free. StayOnline! is the successor to stayonline, which was a commercial product from TomRansom. StayOnline! is a free, open-source software utility for Windows.
