A leader of the Border Patrol union charged that the Trump administration is making it difficult for agents to work the line of fire as demand for their service continues to increase. The American Federation of Government Employees is the largest government employee union. Its members work in immigration and customs, as well as law enforcement. The union's president said Friday the latest figures for border apprehensions make it clear that people want to immigrate to the United States. "It is a problem that needs to be addressed." More than 110,000 people were apprehended along the southern border in May, according to U.S. Customs and Border Protection data. That was up from 55,000 apprehensions in April. The union's president, Randy Erwin, said his organization has asked Customs and Border Protection for permission to allow agents to work in the line of fire at the border. He said the agency has not provided that permission. "That's exactly what we're talking about. How do we get to that point," Mr. Erwin said Friday. Mr. Erwin said the agency won't allow its agents to work undercover at crossings and on infrastructure — like lighting and equipment — without giving notice to union members, who have their own security details at the border. He said union officials have also met with top officials in the White House, homeland security and the Department of Homeland Security, but have not been able to secure an agreement with the agency. "We're not getting any push

- 3x automatic database updater (3x within a day). - The tool can search for series based on title or series name. - More... TV-Search-Mania is a comprehensive TV database application. It allows you to view a TV show's schedule, its plot, cast and the release date in a much more structured format than normal. You can also set this application to automatically download a show's information from its database every 24 hours. The interface includes a calendar, a list of shows arranged by season and a list of episodes. The calendar displays the dates on which a given show is scheduled to be aired. Clicking on an episode reveals a summary of the plot, as extracted from the Internet. The database of TV-Search-Mania can be accessed from anywhere, thanks to the online updater. Once the database is downloaded, the application displays its contents in a table, with the episode scheduled for the current day on top, and the rest of the series arranged by season. The right-click menu allows you to search the database online for a specific show, or select another episode to view its summary. You can also watch the show online for free, using a media player and a proxy service. The application also features a few options for its behavior. You can set the display format, the start time of the updater, the number of episodes to be shown on each page, the number of past and future episodes to display and the refresh rate. You can choose to run the updater on startup, or manually whenever you want. There are also some settings to adjust the application's behavior, such as the schedule mode, the download server and the proxy server. TV-Search-Mania is the best solution for those who are interested in tracking a show's schedule, as well as finding other TV episodes online. The fact that it can update itself means that you will always get the most current information on the schedule. You can even watch the show online if you are having a bad internet connection.
