In a surprising move today, AT&T announced that it would acquire digital communications network WiTalk, the company behind the WiTalk brand, for $450 million in cash. The acquisition will bring the WiTalk brand to bear upon AT&T's much larger mobile data network, allowing AT&T to integrate the WiTalk platform into its own mobile data network while continuing to operate it as a stand-alone network. I was able to copy and paste in and out of the review panel when I wanted to refresh the page. I used a web browser to attempt to paste into my MS Word document, but Word doesn't seem to like the pasting of the elements that come from Photoshop. I encountered problems copying into the text frame or the Word document. It didn't seem to like pasting into the Word document if there was a PSD file attached, but it did seem to be okay with copying over an EPS file, which showed only when I turned on \"Link to a.psd\" in the \"Image Mappability panel.\" The problem I ran into seemed related to the \"Link to a.psd\" setting in the \"Image Mappability panel.\" Not sure why. I never had any problems pasting into this review area or the text boxes if I \"Linked\" the image. I'm sure it has something to do with the \".psd\" file and how it represents the file. I'm not entirely sure, and I haven't had a chance to ask Adobe or the documentation.) To make things even more confusing, I tried pasting into the \"Review Document\" but getting the \"Cannot insert the type 'OLEObject' into the image.\" error message. I didn't test adding links to the review area from other folks or adding the files for comments from folks other than co-workers, but I totally believe there is some way to do that.
